Telecommunications Policy

Index to Volume 16

January/February, March, April, May/June, July, August, September/October, November and December 1992

Articles – titles

A content analysis of 900 numbers: implications for industry regulation and self-regulation, Jack Glascock and Robert LaRose, 16, 2, 147–155

A guide to cross-subsidization and price predation: ten myths, Sanford V. Berg and Dennis L. Weisman, 16, 6, 447–459

Anatomy of a failure: picturephone revisited, A. Michael Noll, 16, 4, 307–316

Antitrust issues concerning R&D cross-subsidization: a case study of US telecommunications, P.M. Rao and Joseph A. Klein, 16, 5, 415–424

A perspective from a national regulator, Bruno Lasserre, 16, 9, 705–711

Bringing advanced technology to rural America: the cost of technology adoption, Bruce L. Egan, 16, 1, 27–45

Broadband telecommunications in rural America: emerging infrastructures for residential service, Andrew Calabrese and Donald Jung, 16, 3, 225–236

Commercial satellite telecommunications and national development: lessons from Peru, John K. Mayo, Gary R. Heald and Steven J. Klees, 16, 1, 67–79

Communications policy options in an era of rapid technological change, Christine Ogan, 16, 7, 565–575

Competition and modernization issues, John V. Buckley, 16, 9, 749–755

Demand aggregation strategies for rural telephony, Harmeet Sawhney, 16, 2, 167–178

Economic implications of collocation for the exchange access market, Douglas R. Mudd and Margarete Z. Starkey, 16, 6, 511–526

European policies and regulation, Herbert Ungerer, 16, 9, 712–716

Facility-based competition in Europe: the case for a separate satellite system, Oliver Stehmann, 16, 2, 135–146

From cable television to direct-broadcast satellite: emerging policy issues in the Asia-Pacific region, Tuen-yu Lau, 16, 7, 576–590

Integrating communication theory into media policy: an economic perspective, Timothy J. Brennan, 16, 6, 460–474

International telecommunications as international movement: the case of Israel, 1951–88, Aharon Kellerman and Anat Cohen, 16, 2, 156–166

ISDN – the telecommunications highway for Europe after 1992?, Gerhard Fuchs, 16, 8, 635–645

Is the communications link still missing?, Meheroo Jussawalla, 16, 6, 485–503

Japanese failure in a high-tech industry? The case of central office telecommunications switches, Martin Fransman, 16, 3, 259–276

Journey through a successful privatization: the privatization of Alberta Government Telephones, Neil Webber, 16, 9, 764–767

Key issues in Europe's open network provision: the case of the German VANS providers, John M. Wheeler, 16, 1, 80–96

Market analysis using regulatory reports, Martin B.H. Weiss, Kenneth M. Sochats and James G. Williams, 16, 3, 237–248

ONA, unbundling and competition in interstate access, John B. Meisel, 16, 3, 194–209

Performance in the US telecommunication services industry: an analysis of the impact of deregulation, Sumit K. Majumdar, 16, 4, 327–338

Privatization and competition versus public service, Michel Treheux, 16, 9, 756–758

Privatization and telephone numbers, Nicholas A.C. Higham, 16, 9, 777–781

Privatization in telecommunications – empty slogan or strategic tool?, Bessel Kok, 16, 9, 699–704

Programme distribution for pay cable: antitrust issues in the USA, David J. Atkin, 16, 6, 475–484

Research and development in telecommunications: national systems under pressure, Hariolf Grupp and Thomas Schnöring, 16, 1, 46–66

Responses to globalization of telecommunications, Keith Spicer, 16, 9, 717–720

Rural telephone companies: diverse outlooks and shared concerns, Harmeet Sawhney, 16, 1, 16–26

Social compatibility of telecommunication technologies: results of the Citizen Report on ISDN, Detlef Garbe, 16, 8, 646–656

Spectrum management: the legal implications of reform in the UK, Christopher Millard, 16, 8, 657–665

Strategies for market entry by private international satellite systems, Rob Frieden, 16, 4, 354–363

Telecommunications in Kenya: development and policy issues, Raymond U. Akwule, 16, 7, 603–611

Telecommunications issues concerning the Texas–Mexico border, Linda Krueger, 16, 6, 504–510

Telecommunications policies and regulatory structures: new issues and trends, David Gillick, 16, 9, 726–731

Telecommunications privatization and international capital markets, Samme Thompson, 16, 9, 732–737

Telecommunications restructuring in developing countries, T.H. Chowdary, 16, 7, 591–602

Telecommunications technology, sectoral prices and international competitiveness, Francis J. Cronin, Mark A. Gold and Steven Lewitzky, 16, 7, 553–564

Telephone–cable cross-ownership: a study in policy alternatives, Richard A. Gershon, 16, 2, 110–121

Telephone company entry into cable television: an evaluation, Leland L. Johnson and David P. Reed, 16, 2, 122–134

The Argentine telephone privatization, Luis M. Gonzáles Lanuza, 16, 9, 759–763

The building of the Internet: implications for the future of broadband networks, Jeffery A. Hart, Robert R. Reed and François Bar, 16, 8, 666–689

The doctrine of regionalism: a new dimension for international standardization in telecommunications, Richard W. Hawkins, 16, 4, 339–353

The evolution of Hungarian telecommunications policy, Eric Whitlock and Emília Nyevrikel, 16, 3, 249–258

The financing of telecommunications infrastructure, Edouard Wylleman, 16, 9, 744–748

The measurement and encouragement of

Telecommunications Policy

Index to Volume 16

January/February, March, April, May/June, July, August, September/October, November and December 1992

Articles – titles

A content analysis of 900 numbers: implications for industry regulation and self-regulation, Jack Glascock and Robert LaRose, 16, 2, 147–155

A guide to cross-subsidization and price predation: ten myths, Sanford V. Berg and Dennis L. Weisman, 16, 6, 447–459

Anatomy of a failure: picturephone revisited, A. Michael Noll, 16, 4, 307–316

Antitrust issues concerning R&D cross-subsidization: a case study of US telecommunications, P.M. Rao and Joseph A. Klein, 16, 5, 415–424

A perspective from a national regulator, Bruno Lasserre, 16, 9, 705–711

Bringing advanced technology to rural America: the cost of technology adoption, Bruce L. Egan, 16, 1, 27–45

Broadband telecommunications in rural America: emerging infrastructures for residential service, Andrew Calabrese and Donald Jung, 16, 3, 225–236

Commercial satellite telecommunications and national development: lessons from Peru, John K. Mayo, Gary R. Heald and Steven J. Klees, 16, 1, 67–79

Communications policy options in an era of rapid technological change, Christine Ogan, 16, 7, 565–575

Competition and modernization issues, John V. Buckley, 16, 9, 749–755

Demand aggregation strategies for rural telephony, Harmeet Sawhney, 16, 2, 167–178

Economic implications of collocation for the exchange access market, Douglas R. Mudd and Margarete Z. Starkey, 16, 6, 511–526

European policies and regulation, Herbert Ungerer, 16, 9, 712–716

Facility-based competition in Europe: the case for a separate satellite system, Oliver Stehmann, 16, 2, 135–146

From cable television to direct-broadcast satellite: emerging policy issues in the Asia-Pacific region, Tuen-yu Lau, 16, 7, 576–590

Integrating communication theory into media policy: an economic perspective, Timothy J. Brennan, 16, 6, 460–474

International telecommunications as international movement: the case of Israel, 1951–88, Aharon Kellerman and Anat Cohen, 16, 2, 156–166

ISDN – the telecommunications highway for Europe after 1992?, Gerhard Fuchs, 16, 8, 635–645

Is the communications link still missing?, Meheroo Jussawalla, 16, 6, 485–503

Japanese failure in a high-tech industry? The case of central office telecommunications switches, Martin Fransman, 16, 3, 259–276

Journey through a successful privatization: the privatization of Alberta Government Telephones, Neil Webber, 16, 9, 764–767

Key issues in Europe's open network provision: the case of the German VANS providers, John M. Wheeler, 16, 1, 80–96

Market analysis using regulatory reports, Martin B.H. Weiss, Kenneth M. Sochats and James G. Williams, 16, 3, 237–248

ONA, unbundling and competition in interstate access, John B. Meisel, 16, 3, 194–209

Performance in the US telecommunication services industry: an analysis of the impact of deregulation, Sumit K. Majumdar, 16, 4, 327–338

Privatization and competition versus public service, Michel Treheux, 16, 9, 756–758

Privatization and telephone numbers, Nicholas A.C. Higham, 16, 9, 777–781

Privatization in telecommunications – empty slogan or strategic tool?, Bessel Kok, 16, 9, 699–704

Programme distribution for pay cable: antitrust issues in the USA, David J. Atkin, 16, 6, 475–484

Research and development in telecommunications: national systems under pressure, Hariolf Grupp and Thomas Schnöring, 16, 1, 46–66

Responses to globalization of telecommunications, Keith Spicer, 16, 9, 717–720

Rural telephone companies: diverse outlooks and shared concerns, Harmeet Sawhney, 16, 1, 16–26

Social compatibility of telecommunication technologies: results of the Citizen Report on ISDN, Detlef Garbe, 16, 8, 646–656

Spectrum management: the legal implications of reform in the UK, Christopher Millard, 16, 8, 657–665

Strategies for market entry by private international satellite systems, Rob Frieden, 16, 4, 354–363

Telecommunications in Kenya: development and policy issues, Raymond U. Akwule, 16, 7, 603–611

Telecommunications issues concerning the Texas–Mexico border, Linda Krueger, 16, 6, 504–510

Telecommunications policies and regulatory structures: new issues and trends, David Gillick, 16, 9, 726–731

Telecommunications privatization and international capital markets, Samme Thompson, 16, 9, 732–737

Telecommunications restructuring in developing countries, T.H. Chowdary, 16, 7, 591–602

Telecommunications technology, sectoral prices and international competitiveness, Francis J. Cronin, Mark A. Gold and Steven Lewitzky, 16, 7, 553–564

Telephone–cable cross-ownership: a study in policy alternatives, Richard A. Gershon, 16, 2, 110–121

Telephone company entry into cable television: an evaluation, Leland L. Johnson and David P. Reed, 16, 2, 122–134

The Argentine telephone privatization, Luis M. Gonzáles Lanuza, 16, 9, 759–763

The building of the Internet: implications for the future of broadband networks, Jeffery A. Hart, Robert R. Reed and François Bar, 16, 8, 666–689

The doctrine of regionalism: a new dimension for international standardization in telecommunications, Richard W. Hawkins, 16, 4, 339–353

The evolution of Hungarian telecommunications policy, Eric Whitlock and Emília Nyevrikel, 16, 3, 249–258

The financing of telecommunications infrastructure, Edouard Wylleman, 16, 9, 744–748

The measurement and encouragement of telephone service quality, Sanford V. Berg and John G. Lynch, Jr, 16, 3, 210–224

The New Zealand experience, S.M. Lojkine, 16, 9, 768–776
The politics of telecommunications reform in South Africa, Robert B. Horwitz, 16, 4, 291–306
The public telephone network: stages in infrastructure development, Harmeet Sawhney, 16, 7, 538–552
The social impact of emerging telephone services, William H. Dutton, 16, 5, 377–387
The status of ISDN in the USA, Kathleen M. Gregg, 16, 5, 425–439
UK policies and regulations, Bill Wigglesworth and Fod Barnes, 16, 9, 721–725
US international telecommunications, 1961–88: an international movement model, Aharon Kellerman, 16, 5, 401–414
Value-added services – problems of definition and data, Matthias-Wolfgang Stoetzer, 16, 5, 388–400
WARC-92: setting the agenda for the future, Liching Sung, 16, 8, 624–634
Was AT&T guilty? A critique of US v AT&T, Dan Gallagher, 16, 4, 317–326
Will telecommunications remain a golden sector?, James Golob, 16, 9, 738–743

Articles – authors

Akwule, Raymond, Telecommunications in Kenya: development and policy issues, 16, 7, 603–611
Atkin, David J., Programme distribution for pay cable: antitrust issues in the USA, 16, 6, 475–484
Bar, François, see Hart, Jeffrey A.
Barnes, Fod, see Wigglesworth, Bill
Berg, Sanford V., and Dennis L. Weisman, A guide to cross-subsidization and price predation: ten myths, 16, 6, 447–459
Berg, Sanford V., and John G. Lynch, Jr, The measurement and encouragement of telephone service quality, 16, 3, 210–224
Brennan, Timothy J., Integrating communication theory into media policy: an economic perspective, 16, 6, 460–474
Buckley, John V., Competition and modernization issues, 16, 9, 749–755
Calabrese, Andrew, and Donald Jung, Broadband telecommunications in rural America: emerging infrastructures for residential service, 16, 3, 225–236
Chowdary, T.H., Telecommunications restructuring in developing countries, 16, 7, 591–602
Cohen, Anat, see Kellerman, Aharon
Cronin, Francis J., Mark A. Gold and Steven Lewitzky, Telecommunications technology, sectoral prices and international competitiveness, 16, 7, 553–564
Dutton, William H., The social impact of emerging telephone services, 16, 5, 377–387
Egan, Bruce L., Bringing advanced technology to rural America: the cost of technology adoption, 16, 1, 27–45
Fransman, Martin, Japanese failure in a high-tech industry? The case of central office telecommunications switches, 16, 3, 259–276
Frieden, Rob, Strategies for market entry by private international satellite systems, 16, 4, 354–363
Fuchs, Gerhard, ISDN – the telecommunications highway for Europe after 1992?, 16, 8, 635–645
Gallagher, Dan, Was AT&T guilty? A critique of US v AT&T, 16, 4, 317–326
Garbe, Detlef, Social compatibility of telecommunication technologies: results of the Citizen Report on ISDN, 16, 8, 646–656
Gershon, Richard A., Telephone–cable cross-ownership: a study in policy alternatives, 16, 2, 110–121
Gillick, David, Telecommunications policies and regulatory structures: new issues and trends, 16, 9, 726–731
Glascock, Jack, and Robert LaRose, A content analysis of 900 numbers: implications for industry regulation and self-regulation, 16, 2, 147–155
Gold, Mark A., and Cronin, Francis J.
Golob, James, Will telecommunications remain a golden sector?, 16, 9, 738–743
Gonzáles Lanuza, Luis M., The Argentine telephone privatization, 16, 9, 759–763
Gregg, Kathleen M., The status of ISDN in the USA, 16, 5, 425–439
Grupp, Hariolf, and Thomas Schnöring, Research and development in telecommunications: national systems under pressure, 16, 1, 46–66
Hart, Jeffrey A., Robert R. Reed and François Bar, The building of the Internet: implications for the future of broadband networks, 16, 8, 666–689
Hawkins, Richard W., The doctrine of regionalism: a new dimension of international standardization in telecommunications, 16, 4, 339–353
Heald, Gary R., see Mayo, John K.
Higham, Nicholas A.C., Privatization and telephone numbers, 16, 9, 777–781
Horwitz, Robert B., The politics of telecommunications reform in South Africa, 16, 4, 291–306
Johnson, Leland L., and David P. Reed, Telephone company entry into cable television: an evaluation, 16, 2, 122–134
Jung, Donald, see Calabrese, Andrew
Jussawalla, Meheroo, Is the communications link still missing?, 16, 6, 485–503
Kellerman, Aharon, US international telecommunications, 1961–88: an international movement model, 16, 5, 401–414
Kellerman, Aharon, and Anat Cohen, International telecommunications as international movement: the case of Israel, 1951–88, 16, 2, 156–166
Klees, Steven J., see Mayo, John K.
Klein, Joseph A., see Rao, P.M.
Kok, Bessel, Privatization in telecommunications – empty slogan or strategic tool?, 16, 9, 699–704
Krueger, Linda, Telecommunications issues concerning the Texas–Mexico border, 16, 6, 504–510
LaRose, Robert, see Glascock, Jack
Lasserre, Bruno, A perspective from a national regulator, 16, 9, 705–711
Lau, Tuen-yu, From cable television to direct-broadcast satellite: emerging policy issues in the Asia-Pacific region, 16, 7, 576–590
Lewitzky, Steven, see Cronin, Francis J.
Lojkine, S.M., The New Zealand experience, 16, 9, 768–776
Lynch, John G., Jr, see Berg, Sanford V.
Majumdar, Sumit K., Performance in the US telecommunication services industry: an analysis of the impact of deregulation, 16, 4, 327–338
Mayo, John K., Gary R. Heald and Steven J. Klees, Commercial satellite telecommunications and national development: lessons from Peru, 16, 1, 67–79
Meisel, John B., ONA unbundling and competition in interstate access, 16, 3, 194–209
Millard, Christopher, Spectrum management: the legal implications of reform in the UK, 16, 8, 657–665
Mudd, Douglas R., and Margarete Z. Starkey, Economic implications of collocation for the exchange access market, 16, 6, 511–526
Noll, A. Michael, Anatomy of a failure: picturephone revisited, 16, 4, 307–316
Nyevrikel, Emília, see Whitlock, Erik
Ogan, Christine, Communications policy options in the era of rapid technological change, 16, 7, 565–575
Rao, P.M., and Joseph A. Klein, Antitrust issues concerning R&D cross-subsidization: a case study of US telecommunications, 16, 5, 415–424
Reed, David P., see Johnson, Leland L.
Reed, Robert R., see Hart, Jeffrey A.
Sawhney, Harmeet, Demand aggregation strategies for rural telephony, 16, 2, 167–178
Sawhney, Harmeet, Rural telephone companies: diverse outlooks and shared concerns, 16, 1, 16–26
Sawhney, Harmeet, The public telephone network: stages in infrastructure development, 16, 7, 538–552
Schnöring, Thomas, see Grupp, Hariolf
Sochats, Kenneth M., see Weiss, Martin B.H.
Spicer, Keith, Responses to globalization of telecommunications, 16, 9, 717–720
Starkey, Margarete Z., see Mudd, Douglas R.
Stehmann, Oliver, Facility-based competition in Europe: the case for a separate satellite system, 16, 2, 135–146
Stoetzer, Matthias-Wolfgang, Value-added services – problems of definition and data, 16, 5, 388–400
Sung, Liching, WARC-92: setting the agenda for the future, 16, 8, 624–634
Thompson, Samme, Telecommunications privatizations and international capital markets, 16, 9, 732–737
Treheux, Michel, Privatization and competition versus public service, 16, 9, 756–758

Ungerer, Herbert, European policies and regulation, 16, 9, 712–716
Webber, Neil, Journey through a successful privatization: the privatization of Alberta Government Telephones, 16, 9, 764–767
Weisman, Dennis L., see Berg, Sanford V.
Weiss, Martin B.H., Kenneth M. Sochats and James G. Williams, Markets analysis using regulatory reports, 16, 3, 237–248
Wheeler, John M., Key issues in Europe's open network provision: the case of the German VANS providers, 16, 1, 80–96
Whitlock, Erik, and Emília Nyevrikel, The evolution of Hungarian telecommunications policy, 16, 3, 249–258
Wigglesworth, Bill, and Fod Barnes, UK policies and regulations, 16, 9, 721–725
Williams, James G., see Weiss, Martin B.H.
Wylleman, Edouard, The financing of telecommunications infrastructure, 16, 9, 744–748

Comment

Broadband convergence: a view of the regulatory barriers, Virat Patel, 16, 2, 98–104
BT's price review and the rural areas, Brian Cooper, 16, 8, 618–623
Global telecommunications: policy implications in the USA, Keith E. Bernard, 16, 5, 371–376
Global telecommunication standards – who needs them?, Ivor N. Knight, 16, 4, 288–290
Japan's success in telecommunications regulation: a unique regulatory mix, Simon Glynn, 16, 1, 5–12
Liberalization of Eastern Europe: economic restructuring and the telecommunications industry, Jürgen Müller, 16, 4, 282–287
Playing the regulatory game: network modernization, David W. McCarty, 16, 7, 531–537
Services – the impact of the technology explosion, Edward J. Exton, 16, 2, 105–109
Strategic review of telecommunications in the SADCC region, Les Breiner, 16, 6, 443–446
The role of cities in telecommunications development, Stephen D.N. Graham, 16, 3, 187–193
Unnatural monopoly in telecommunications, John T. Wenders, 16, 1, 13–15

Editorials

If six turned out to be nine, Colin Blackman, 16, 1, 3–4
World privatization of telecommunications, Colin R. Blackman, 16, 9, 698

Report

An inquiry into the privacy aspects of caller-ID, A. Michael Noll, 16, 8, 690–693

Conference report

One-day conference on 'Radio Spectrum Management', London, UK, 24 March 1991, Frances Brown, 16, 4, 364–366

Book reviews

Australia's Telecommunication Futures edited by Tony Stevenson and June Lennie (reviewed by Donald M. Lamberton), 16, 8, 693–694
Residential Fibre Optic Networks: An Engineering and Economic Analysis by David P. Reed (reviewed by Bruce Egan), 16, 8, 694–695
Rural Telecoms Handbook, Volume 2: Equipment and Manufacturers, 2nd Edition by Tim Hills and David Cleevely (reviewed by Edwin B. Parker), 16, 8, 695–696

Publications

16, 5, 440